LOCAL GOVERNMENT LITTER INDEX (LGLI)

Keep Australia Beautiful NSW is now offering Local Government Areas (LGAs) a new service, the Local Government Litter Index (LGLI), which provides the opportunity to acquire comprehensive litter data for their respective councils. Delivered by qualified and trained staff, the LGLI is based on the KAB National Litter Index (NLI) with a range of new benefits and features.

The KAB NLI was developed in 2005 as a common means of measuring litter trends across Australia both by number of items and by volume. The data has traditionally only been reported back to State Governments and audit site details have never been revealed to protect the integrity of the state reports.

KAB has now re-designed the NLI specifically for LGAs and the new features will provide them with detailed litter data, brand data and audit site clean-ups to enable them to make more informed decisions in their communities.

Contact KAB for more information and to register your interest for the LGLI.

EDUCATION & PROGRAMS

ENVIROMENTORS

EnviroMentors® is NSW's leading incursion-based environmental education service.

The program offers schools and community groups interactive workshops on sustainability, litter reduction and resource conservation. Our workshops are designed to engage and empower participants and provide an opportunity to relate environmental issues on a local council level.

Delivered by our team of dedicated and expert educators who travel state-wide, our workshops are designed in line with the NSW curriculum and can reach up to 150 students per day. This engaging and successful program reaches approximately 36,000 students each year and visits more than 250 schools over 32 local government areas.

EnviroMentors® is a creative space for participants to bridge the gap between knowledge and practise. We work directly with Councils to prepare local examples on sustainability and waste services, building a greater awareness on domestic bin use, tricky waste disposal and recycling programs.

Included in the daily fee:

- All administration including recruitment, communication and timetabling of schools
- Workshop delivery by our qualified educators
- Education resources for teachers
- Inclusion of specific council area waste service information
- A detailed report at the end of the booking
